

EPLEY GARAGE BURGLARIZED; GET $5.60 CASH

C. W. Epley's Garage, Chambersburg St., was robbed sometime Friday night or early this morning by a robber or robbers who stole $5.60 in change, some seat covers and perhaps some auto parts, Mr. Epley announced this morning.

It is the belief of Mr. Epley that the robber or robbers hid themselves in the garage early Thursday evening and remained in the garage when Mr. Epley locked his office at 9:20 o'clock Thursday night.

The cash register in the front office was looted of the change, $5.60, which was left in the register when the day's receipts were transferred to a money bag for deposit in a night vault. Mr. Epley said that the robbers must have been familiar with the register because the drawer will "fly out of its shelf" when the keys are punched unless the operator checks it with his hand.

Register Is Damaged

The cash register in the part department could not be "rifled," Mr. Epley said, because the robbers did not know how to work it. They used an iron bar from the front door in an effort to break it open and failed. They also used a license tag holder in a vain effort to pry the drawer open. The register was badly damaged.

A fan and other parts in the department had been removed. A step ladder was used to climb above the ceiling of the department to where seat covers are stored.

Mr. Epley said the robber or robbers went out of the garage through the back door.

Borough police are investigating.

Hospital Crowded For Space; May Construct New Facilities

The directors of the Annie M. Warner ran head on into the hard realities of public trusteeship, at their monthly meeting Friday evening, in relating the need of a building program at the hospital to their ability to finance it.

The pressure springs from the need to relieve the extremely crowded conditions in the X-ray and dispensary departments. There being no additional space available, the only solution is the construction of new facilities which, the directors were informed, will cost approximately $250,000.

An alternate, they were further informed, would be to construct a new building to which patient facilities in the old building could be transferred and convert the old building for exclusive use of out-patient services. This involves many considerations besides costs. It would mean a new structure to house 60 patients, the present capacity of the old building, and just where the building would be located to function smoothly and economically.

One proposal suggests moving the Nurses' home to the rear and joining the new structure to the present Musselman annex building.

Old Building Obsolete

Though endeavoring to deal with only the immediate need to cure the inadequate facilities available to X-ray, dispensary and out-patient departments, the continuing obsolescence of the old building as a patient facility so constantly manifests itself that it cannot be ignored in dealing with the immediate problem.

President John A. Hauser described one plan, for which preliminary drawings have been made, which calls for construction of a wing at the rear of the Musselman annex, off the sun porches, to house all out-patient departments plus surgery suites.

Must Provide Facilities

He explained the medical staff, in studying this plan, suggested that consideration be given to moving the nurses' home to the rear of the lot and constructing a building, to house patients now roomed in the old building, connecting with the Musselman building.

President Hauser said the staff proposals would be studied. Addressing the directors, he said: "It is our obligation as trustees to endeavor to provide the hospital facilities that are needed by the people of Adams County. It has been my hope that we can relieve the present inadequacies at nominal cost and at the same time not complicate or obstruct the expansion that will become necessary in the future."

"It is the responsibility of every..."

WARMEST APRIL SINCE '45 WAS SHORT ON RAIN

The warmest April in Gettysburg since 1945 went into the records with an average of five degrees more heat daily than normal April weather but more than a half inch short on rainfall.

Records at the Gettysburg Times weather station show the average daily temperature was 55.8 degrees. Normal is 51 degrees for April in Gettysburg.

Seven days of 80-degree weather contributed to the high average while freezing temperatures were reached on only four days early in the month. The April high was 83 degrees reached on the afternoons of April 19 and 20. The coldest day was April 4 when the temperature dropped to eight below freezing.

Measurable amounts of rain fell on 10 days last month but only the 1.98 inches on April 17 and 17 could be listed as "heavy rains." Traces of rain fell on several other days and on April 1 there were snow flurries but the snow melted as fast as it fell and accounted for most of the 0.12 inches of precipitation measured that day.

April's rain brought the 1954 total to 9.85 inches which is 2.90 inches below normal for the first four months of the year.

ARENDTSTADT REPORT

The Arendtville Laboratory Weather Station reported an average temperature last month of 53.83 degrees and total rainfall of only 2.68 inches. The average daily high was 65.9 degrees and the average low was 41.9 degrees. April's rain brought the 1954 total to 9.11 inches at Arendtville.

HAROLD CARSON IS SENTENCED TO WHITE HILL

Harold J. Carson, 18, Fairfield, convicted of involuntary manslaughter, was sentenced to Pennsylvania Industrial School at White Hill for an indeterminate sentence by the Adams County Court this morning.

Carson was the driver of an automobile which smashed into the Rock Creek bridge at the end of Hanover St. early on the morning of April 4, then broke off a utility pole and overturned. A passenger in Carson's car, Glenn Shirley, 21, Gettysburg R. D., was fatally injured in the crash.

A jury, in finding Carson guilty of involuntary manslaughter this week, had recommended clemency. In imposing sentence Judge W. C. Sheely said, "he and the associate judges had given Carson's case 'a great deal of thought,' and had decided that 'there is no justification whatever' in your attempt to take that curve at the speed you did in your cowboying around. Something must be wrong." The court added that it took the recommendation of the jury into consideration in imposing the sentence.

Gets Suspended Sentence

Howard Wayne Keller, Hanover, who was found guilty by a jury this week of operating an auto after his license had been suspended, was given a suspended sentence on payment of costs in consideration of the fact that he still has seven years of an eight-year parole from Maryland to serve, and that the case here was a violation of that parole.

Edward Pittenturf, 19 Breckenridge St., was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants. A similar sentence was given Samuel C. Nangle, Gardner's R. 2, on a similar charge.

James W. Mauston, 264 S. Washington St., was given a suspended sentence on a charge of driving after his license had been suspended and was ordered to pay $100 for the use of the county and the costs.

After the two collided Mrs. Hayes car also crashed into another truck parked in front of the Kennedy business place.

asked that the court suspend imposition of the sentence until after he had completed his present farm work. He was allowed to renew bail to appear in court on June 14.

Darrell F. Pyles, Hanover, charged with driving while under the influence, was sentenced to 30 days in jail and ordered to pay $50 for the use of the county and costs. The jail sentence begins as of April 6 when he was first incarcerated.

Beamer Fined $150

Paul E. Beamer, Biglerville, R. 1, was given a suspended sentence on condition that he pay $150 for the use of the county and costs on a charge of driving after his license had been suspended. He was also ordered to pay $117.55 lying-in expenses and $5 per week for support of the child and costs on a morals charge.

Willie L. Burley, Philadelphia, who had pleaded guilty to a hit and run charge, asked permission of the court to change his plea to innocent when he appeared in court this morning. Burley said he recalled no accident. State Police-man Robert P. Brady, the arresting officer, said that Burley had been in two accidents, that he had struck a car causing $300 damage near Abbotstown, and then had continued on to run off the road and demolish his own car near Gettysburg. The court permitted the change of plea, ordered Burley to post $1,000 bail for the August term of court, and warned him that if there was any perjury in the case he would also have to answer for that.

Imposition of sentence was suspended for two years on the charge of driving while under the influence of intoxicants to which Mrs. Dorothy L. Haslam, Merion Station, Pa., had pleaded guilty. She was ordered to pay $300 for the use of the county and the costs.

Dr. Stewart Polk, Rosemont, Pa., told the court that the youngest son of Mrs. Haslam, who is the mother of three children, is suffering from a malignant disease. He said that the greatest need for the child is the presence of his mother and that there has been a great strain on Mrs. Haslam as a result of this condition. He also added that she has been under the treatment of a specialist and has not had any alcoholic drink for the past three months "since the arrest here."

Mrs. Haslam is the wife of Greville Haslam, headmaster of the Episcopal Academy, Overbrook, Pa.

Other witnesses for Mrs. Haslam said that she is "highly respected" in the community and that both she and Dr. Haslam "have been a fine influence on the students at the school."

Judge W. C. Sheely said that the Adams County Court does not discuss out of court any cases before the court and that as a result letters sent concerning Mrs. Haslam were to be made a matter of record to permit the public to know the situation.

STRIKE ORDER IS RESCINDED

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The order went out last night that the strike halting Pittsburgh's trolleys and buses was on, but early today — 1½ hours later — the 2,700 AFL workers seeking higher wages were told to stay on the job "for at least one week" more.

The "stop-strike" order came from Harry Butler, president of Assn. of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employees which represents the Pittsburgh Railways Co. bus and trolley drivers.

Butler said he had agreed, in the public interest and due to urging from Mayor David L. Lawrence and AFL and CIO leaders, to resume negotiations with management.

The drivers, now earning about $1.98 an hour, want a 30-cent-an-hour hike in pay. The company said it can't afford it.

A strike in the steel city—Pennsylvania's second largest metropolitan area — would affect more than 200,000 daily riders of the buses and trolleys.

State Police of the local substation investigated and reported a total estimated damage of $1,180 including $850 to the truck, $300 to the automobile and $30 to the lawn. According to police and witnesses the Gastley truck was traveling north into Biglerville when the Wagner car, coming from the direction of Biglerville, made a left turn into the Payne driveway.

Gastley was approximately 60 feet from the driveway when he saw the approaching car make the turn. He applied his brakes sharply and skidded off the side of the road into a low grass embankment at the base of the lawn fronting the Payne home.

Force of the impact in the soft

Wagner said he was already stopped when the Gastley truck hurtled toward him. "I saw him coming, but all I could do was crouch down in the car," he said. The front end and windshield of his car was damaged.

Later Elmer Gastley was taken to the Warner Hospital for X-ray examination and discharged to await a report.

Gross And Worley Are Renominated By Wide Margin: Congressman Chester H. Gross, of Manchester, York county, seeking re-election to his third term in the House of Representatives, won the Republican nomination Tuesday by a margin of 4,072 votes over his Adams county opponent, Leighton C. Taylor, of Bendersville.

Gross polled 11,113 votes against Taylor's 8,041. He carried his own county of York by 2,713 votes, and Franklin county by 565. Taylor carried his home county of Adams by 206 votes.

Francis Worley, York Springs R.
D. 1, won the Republican nomination for re-election to the state Legislature over H. Earl Pitzer of Aspers, by a margin of 1,094 votes.
Worley polled 2,384 votes to 1,290 for Pitzer.

Chauncey J. Smith, of McSherry-stown, defeated Frank J. Slonaker, of Gettysburg, for the office of Republican State Committeeman, by 391 votes. Smith received 1,886 votes against 1,495 for Slonaker.

While Esther M. Hayberger has a margin of victory of 20 votes over Evelyn Swope Neely, both of Gettysburg, for the office of vice chairman of the Republican county committee, the winner will not be definitely determined until the soldier votes are tabulated. Twenty-one military ballots are in the hands of the commissioners now.

Peter F. Smith Quits OPA Post:
The resignation of Peter F. Smith of McSherrystown as chairman of the New Oxford War Price and Rationing Board was announced Monday.
Mr. Smith has served as chairman since the board was organized in December of 1941. Poor health was given as the cause of the resignation.

Prisoner Gets First U.S. Mail On His Birthday: The first mail that Staff Sergeant Henry B. Pecher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Pecher, of near Fairfield, has received from home since he was taken prisoner by the Japs in the first days of the war reached him February 10, his twenty-fifth birthday anniversary, his parents learned Saturday through a radio message intercepted by the International Red Cross and sent to the Pechers through the Provost Marshal General's office in Washington.

Sergeant Pecher, first Adams county soldier to be reported "missing in action" in this war, continues in good health, much cheered by the packages, pictures and mail he received from the home-folk on his third birthday anniversary spent as a Jap prisoner.

Avery Thrown From Office By Soldiers Today: Chicago April 27 (AP)
— Two soldiers of the Army detail which seized the Montgomery Ward and company Chicago plant forcibly ejected Sewell L. Avery, 69, company chairman, today from his own offices which he refused to yield to authority even of President Roosevelt. The troops carried Avery bodily out of the administration building.

Morehead-Moxley: Miss Margaret
Katharine Moxley, daughter of Mrs.
Margaret Moxley, Westminster, and Paul James Morehead, Little-town, were married in the Westminster Church of the Brethren.
The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. S.
Earl Mitchell.

Growers May Have Banner Fruit
Harvest: If the county fruit growers can lick the aphid, apple scab, brown rot, weather and scarcity of labor problems, Adams county will have the largest fruit production in its history this year.

That statement was made Thursday evening at a meeting of the Adams County Fruit Growers Association at the Biglerville auditorium, by J. O. Pepper, extension entomologist, and G. L. Zundel, extension plant pathologist, who studied the problem at first hand Thursday before reporting to the 160 fruit growers present for the meeting.

Their conclusions following the survey are:

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

FRIENDS

There isn't a human being in all this world who cannot have at least one friend, and that friend may become as a beacon of light by both day and night, and a guide through life. The human friend is perhaps the choicest, but there are two others—the dog friend and the book friend.

A friend is our other self, and this applies to the three friends I mention. We can turn to each and all according to our selection. We begin to know a friend when he tells us of a friend of his. Consolation is the reward that we gain from each and all of these friends.
Circumstances forbid many of us from having a faithful dog as our friend, but a human friend may always be near, and we can select the book, or books, that will remain our friend, or friends, to the end of life.

In the world of nature there are friends as well, though they may only be silent, such as trees, bodies of water, and the flowers that grow wild and inviting. At my summer island retreat, during my vacation days, I have affection for the spreading rocks that form the shores of the lake. I lie in the warm sunshine, note the cloud formations, and listen to the joyous calls and songs of native birds.
All friends that blot out loneliness, and feed the spirit.

Napoleon in exile had, as his expectant friend, the boxes of books that came to him, and from which he gained his greatest comfort. He had over 8,000 in his library at St. Helena and read each book that came to him rapidly, tossing them upon the floor as he read. Andrew Lang once said that "book is a friend whose face is constantly changing" but always the friend. Ever new is a great book.

Silently, and with great appreciation, every night when I leave my library, and go to my bed, I habitually say within my heart:
"Good night, my friends!"

Just Folks

THE DANDELION
Poor, little, common yellow flower,

Missed by the morning dew, Living and blooming with all your power,

Does nobody care for you?

Gardeners think you not worth their sowing.
Bright little head of gold,
There are so many of you here growing

Never your worth is told.

Were you a delicate flower and tender,
Were you a blossom rare,
People would stop to admire
your splendor;

Many for you would care.

Still from your courage new faith I've taken,
Blossom of golden hue,
Each to our tasks assigned must waken—

I am a commoner, too.

MRS. HERBERT M. SMITH JR.

The dreams of many years recently became a reality for Mrs. Herbert M. Smith Jr., Hamburg, N. J., formerly Miss Verna M. Newell, R. 4, who gave up the life of a secretary to become a child photographer at the urging of her artist-husband.

Together, the two now operate a Glamour Studio and Art School in Hamburg, where Mrs. Smith, young mother of a five-year-old son, specializes in portraiture, while her husband, former high school art supervisor, teaches painting and sketching.

Mrs. Smith, daughter of Mrs. Calvin L. Moritz, R. 2, and the late Franklin A. Newell, R. 4, says: "To me, photographing a child is the recording of an instant from the most glorious years of life, that of childhood."

Lured To Photography

It was only three years ago, when she left Williamsport, Pa., to join her husband—then an art director at Franklin High School, that she became interested in photography and art. Under the tutelage of Mr.
Smith she proved an apt pupil.

Recognizing signs of a definite latent talent, Mr. Smith devoted his off hours to teaching his wife the art of photographing children in all their various moods.

A few months ago she severed connections with her typewriter, shorthand pad and secretary's desk for camera portraiture.

Mrs. Smith confides that children have always been her first love.
She says she is never so happy as when she is using a camera "to record the innocence, charm, and sheer sweetness that is mostly found in children of all ages."

Her other hobbies are ceramics and interior decorating. Her attractive home and studio, near the Governor Haines Inn, "reflect charm, personality, and good taste."

The former Adams Countian's busy schedule also includes out-of-door sketching, oil painting, and work as an active member of the First Presbyterian Church of Franklin—all in addition to caring for the wants and needs of five-year-old Mark.

She visited her mother last weekend.

INTEREST LIGHT IN ELECTION

Little interest has been generated for Emmitsburg's municipal election Monday.

A battle for the mayoralty job developed briefly last week when Joseph R. Hoke, a former Burgess, filed officially for the elective job, but early Monday withdrew from the race leaving the incumbent mayor, Thornton W. Rodgers, unopposed.

With no opposition for either of the two offices to be filled, light voting is predicted. Electionwise citizens estimate that about 50 per cent of the 435 eligible voters will cast ballots.

To be elected are the Burgess and one commissioner, Charles R. Fuss, incumbent street commissioner, also is running unopposed. Opposition was suspected last week when 40 new registrants signed the town's books, but unless a strong write-in movement is generated before Monday, the two candidates undoubtedly will be elected.

Hold-over commissioners are Colonel Thomas J. Fraley and Wales E. Rightmire. If elected Monday, Mayor Rodgers will immediately make the annual appointments of the town clerk, which at the present time is Miss Louise Sebald, and the chief of police which is currently filled by Daniel J. Kaas. Following

13 BAKERIES OUT ON STRIKE

NEW YORK (AP)—Workers in 13 local bakeries, including five of the city's largest, went on strike early today after failing to get their work week cut from 40 to 37 1/2 hours.

An unspecified wage increase was also reported to be involved.

Union officials said bakery strikes would also be called at midnight tonight in a number of upstate communities, including Buffalo, Binghamton, Elmira, Newburgh, Middletown and Rochester.

Altogether they estimated 4,700 workers would be involved in the walkouts—1,500 in New York City and the rest upstate.

Union leaders said the strike would also spread to the Hostess Cake Co. in Jersey City, N. J., and to scattered workers in other New Jersey plants. These scattered workers were not expected to be numerous enough to tie up the plants.

Chambersburg Downs Warrior Nine 5-1 In League Contest; Delone Here Monday At 3:30

Gettysburg High School's baseball team dropped its third South Penn League game and fourth tilt of the season when it bowed to Chambersburg here Friday afternoon 5-1.

Barnhart, Trojan hurler, permitted the Warriors but three hits, two of which came in the opening frame when the locals tallied their lone run.

Elton Martin, who pitched good ball for the Warriors, was charged with the loss.

Danny Roth opened the last half of the first inning when he was safe on D. Corwell's error. Cloyd Spence sacrificed. Bobby Rohrbaugh singled but Rohrbaugh was nipped trying for third base. Dick Hess popped out to end the inning.

Chambersburg picked up a run in the second on a pair of errors, a walk and a fielder's choice.

The Trojans pushed over two runs in the fourth on a single by Barnhart, fielder's choice and a double by Jacobs. The final Chambersburg runs in the sixth were the result of an error, fielder's choice, and a double by Barnhart.

Monday afternoon the Warriors met Delone Catholic High here at 3:30 in an exhibition game.

DEBATE SERIES FOR SMALL FRY

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—The future of the small fry baseball world series is in the hands of a special committee making a national study of its good and bad points.

F. J. McGovern, president of Little League, Inc., the non-profit organization that has brought organized baseball to 8-12-year-olds throughout the world, has appointed a three-man group to carry out what he called "a realistic survey" of the problem.

National Little League world series, the climax of the league, district, state and regional tournament play, has been conducted in this little league founding city the last seven years.

It has brought some criticism on the basis that it is unnecessary and raises terrific strain on the youngsters, but the Little League organization isn't convinced.

Main objective of the study, McGovern said, will be to determine if the world series should be continued or discarded and if so, what can substitute for it? Participation in Little League tournaments is left up to every league but McGovern estimated that about 95 per cent of the leagues do take part.

DELONE LOSES OPENER 7-2 TO THUNDERBOLTS

Littlestown High School's baseball team spoiled Delone Catholic's opener by winning a 7-2 decision at Littlestown Friday afternoon, four of the winners' runs being unearned.

The Thunderbolts tabbed a run in the first inning on a single by Yealy, his steal of second base, and a single by Stonestifer.

Delone took a brief lead in the top of the second with two runs on a single by Chrismer, walk to Bair and long single by Small.

A double by Warner, walk to Hall and Orndorff's safety produced the tying run for the Bolts in the last of the second frame.

ELMIRA BOWS
TO ALLENTOWN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Allentown fans, seeing Eastern League baseball again after 17 years, are getting their thrills early in the season—such as a game-winning homer with two out in the ninth.

George Schachle unloaded the Merrivill blast with two on last night to give the Redbirds an 8-5 victory over the Elmira Pioneers in a home-run duel.

Reading's Phil Quasben clouted a three-run homer in the top of the ninth to give the Indians an 8-7 win over the Triplets at Binghamton in another homer-splattered contest.

But in the other two games, pitchers stole the show. Jake Furlong of Wilkes-Barre spun a 3-0 five-hitter at Schenectady and Nick Genesta of Williamsport tossed four innings of shutout relief in the Grays' 8-4 triumph over Albany.

The night's skirmishing left Binghamton, Wilkes-Barre and Williamsport tied for the league lead with 5-3 records.

Bullets Blank Penn State 1-0 In 11 Frames For 6th Straight; F-M Here Today

Gettysburg College's undefeated baseball team scored one of its most impressive triumphs in years Friday afternoon by blanking Penn State 1-0 in 11 innings for its sixth successive victory.

Fred Alleva, Bullet catcher, poled a long single down the left field foul line to score Johnny Schreiber to break up a brilliant mound duel between Joe Bierly, Gettysburg sophomore, and Keith Vesling, Lion ace.

The victory was the first for a Bullet nine over Penn State in 15 years.

Today the Bullets seek victory No. 7 when they meet Franklin and Marshall on the local diamond at 2:30 o'clock.

The all-important run came with two out. Johnny Schreiber, third baseman, opened the frame with a walk and was promptly sacrificed to second base by Don Annett. Oakie Shallick popped out but Alleva came through with a sharp drive over third base to send Schreiber over, Alleva going to second on the throw to the plate. Alleva was nipped attempting to steal third base to end the frame.

Bierly gave a superb performance and was never in serious trouble although two Bullet double plays in the seventh and eighth innings pulled him out of mid-state threats.

In the bottom of the 11th he forced Bradley to fly out with two on and two out. He yielded only four singles and fanned two. Vesling also gave a fine mound exhibition in permitting but three singles and fanning six.

Previously Penn State had defeated West Virginia in a twin bill and Dickinson while losing to Lafayette.

ANNVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The Lebanon Valley College athletic council yesterday ruled that Lou Sorrentino, its ace pitcher and outfielder, was ineligible for the college baseball team.

The council said Sorrentino was ruled out after it was learned that he had played in several post-season non-collegiate basketball games on a team which included several professionals.

This is a violation of eligibility rules of the Eastern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference of which Lebanon Valley is a member.

BOB TRICE WINS THIRD FOR A'S AND PUTS THEM IN THIRD PLACE

By BEN PHLEGAR
AP Sports Writer

If big Bob Trice can keep up his fast start he may make the jump from International League Rookie of the Year to American League Rookie of the Year in one season.

The lean, Georgia-born Negro, first of his race to play for the Philadelphia Athletics, has started finished and won three games. And each time he's pitched he's gotten better.

Trice joined the A's last September and posted a 2-1 record after winning 21 for Ottawa in the International League.

Three Hit Shutout
This year he made his first start against Boston and won 6-4 even though he was reached for 11 hits. In his second appearance he shut out the New York Yankees 1-0 on six hits. Last night against the Baltimore Orioles he had a one-hit shutout going for eight innings and wound up with a 5-1 thrifter.

The only Baltimore run came as Bobby Young singled, moved to third on Gil Coan's double and scored as Eddie Waitkus grounded out.

Trice's fine pitching pushed the Athletics into third place in the American League, a game and a half behind the fast moving Chicago White Sox who whipped Boston 5-0 for their ninth victory in 11 games.

Senators Lose In 12th
Detroit outlasted Washington 2-1 in 12 innings and Cleveland thumped the Yankees 9-4 with a five run explosion in the 10th inning at New York.

In the National League Brooklyn took over first place from Cincinnati by beating the Redlegs 6-3. The New York Giants shaded the Chicago Cubs 4-2 in 14 innings on Willie Mays' home run and the Philadelphia Phillies defeated Milwaukee 5-2. Pittsburgh was rained out at St. Louis.

Bob Keegan, who never has been a big spring winner, scattered eight hits for his third straight success for the White Sox. He's won eight in a row over two seasons.

Beat Whitey Ford
Washington's Bob Porterfield needed only one more out for a three-hit shutout against Detroit. Then the Tigers crashed three successive singles to tie the score and went on to win with three more singles in the 12th.

The Indians found the range in the 10th against Whitey Ford, battering the Yankee relief pitcher for a triple, three singles and a walk good for five runs.

Sal Maglie, written off as a has been in the late stages of the 1953 campaign, became the first pitcher in either league to win four games. To do it he had to pitch the longest game of his career.

3rd For Murry
Mays' homer came against Warren Hacker who took over from Bob Rush at the start of the 13th. Rush gave up only three hits in the first dozen innings.

The Phillies jumped on rookie Gene Conley for four runs in the sixth inning at Milwaukee for their second straight over the Braves. Murry Dickson won his third game against a single loss since joining the Phils.

Stamp Honors Inventor Of Linotype Machine

A special post office will be opened by the West German postal authorities at Hachtel, birthplace of Ottmar Mergenthaler, for mail posted in connection with the 100th Anniversary of the birth of the inventor of the Linotype, to be observed on May 11. To commemorate the anniversary a commemorative stamp in the denomination of 10 pfennig has been authorized in Berlin.

Hachtel, a tiny village not far from Stuttgart, in Western Germany, is too small to boast a post office of its own, but the bureau installed for the occasion will utilize a special Mergenthaler cachet for processing mail on the anniversary date.

The stamp was authorized on March 29 by the Senate of West Berlin, the city in which German models of Mr. Mergenthaler's ingenious machine are built.

Sales of the Mergenthaler commemorative stamp to collectors abroad are expected to augment the financial resources of Berlin.

The design was executed by Herman Zapf, one of the leading contemporary German artists, whose previous work for the Deutsche Post has included such stamps as the "Meda Lisa, Martin Luther, and the 'Wellfare Series' showing Elsa Brandstrom, Pestalozzi, Bodelschwingh, etc.

Mergenthaler, a German clock-maker before his emigration to the United States as a young man, rose to a high pinnacle of success through his invention of the Linotype, a machine capable of composing more than 800 languages

TORNADOES HIT 6 STATES; ONE DEAD, 56 HURT

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Tornadoes and vicious winds lashing six states in the Southwest and Midwest left one person dead, at least 56 injured and caused damages estimated in the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Texas suffered the most damage—39 injured in 23 towns and communities. Other states hit yesterday included Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri and Iowa.

Mrs. Doot Sowell, 73-year-old Negro of Many, La., was the only fatality reported. Her body was found draped around a fence post. Six persons in the Sowell home were injured.

Eleven separate but small tornadoes struck in eastern Iowa.

One twister injured five members of a family near Cedar Rapids when it tossed them about 100 feet into a field. Their farm home was destroyed.

Ten Mergenthaler Linotype machines are used by The Gettysburg Times.

The same tornado swept through LaFayette, Iowa, wrecking cars, uprooting trees and stripping houses of their roofs.

Two were hurt in Arkansas, three at Versailles, Mo., and one in Oklahoma.

Eleven children were hurt in an east Texas twister that struck the Beulak schoolhouse, 12 miles southeast of Lufkin.

West of Lufkin, another tornado swirled past the Grapeland, Tex., school building, in which 600 children were attending classes. The school escaped damage, but destruction in downtown Grapeland was estimated at $25,000.

Houston, Fort Worth, Dallas, San Antonio—all felt the force of the spring storms that damaged a Negro housing project in west Dallas so extensively that 18 families had to be evacuated.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-SD) says an attempt may soon come to shorten the public probe of the flaming dispute between Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and his aides and top military officials.

Mundt, chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee during the televised inquiry, said last night the hour may shortly be at hand for efforts to narrow the issues that have now been pitted before the senators in seven days of under-oath hearings without signs of let-up.

Secretary of the Army Stevens who first took the witness stand the opening day, April 22, was still there when the group recessed for the weekend yesterday, although several others have testified for briefer interludes. Stevens was listed for another appearance Monday.

Stiff Questioning

As the hearings closed yesterday, Ray H. Jenkins, special subcommittee counsel, drew from Stevens an acknowledgment that when the Army secretary was thinking of relieving Maj. Gen. Kirke B. Lawton from command at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., he so informed McCarthy "to find out how Sen. McCarthy felt about it."

Ft. Monmouth, a radar research center, was then a target in McCarthy's hunt for alleged espionage.

Stevens, under stiff questioning, said that McCarthy wanted Lawton continued in command because the general was "cooperating fully" with McCarthy's investigation, and that in fact Lawton was left in command at Ft. Monmouth and still is.

Didn't Fear Reprisal

But the secretary said he was "not afraid" of a McCarthy reprisal if Lawton was removed, that he gave McCarthy the information on Lawton as part of his own policy of cooperating with the Senate probe, and that he decided to retain Lawton strictly "on the merits" of his case.

Stevens has charged McCarthy and his associates with seeking favored Army treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a former McCarthy committee non-salaried consultant. McCarthy has accused Stevens and his aides of attempting to stop his investigation of alleged Communists at Ft. Monmouth's radar center. Both sides have denied the others' charges.

Mundt said the inquiry group discussed in a closed session yesterday the possibility that opposing counsel could get together to narrow some of the issues in dispute.

Asked about the possibility of some compromise, McCarthy said before he left for weekend speaking engagements in Wisconsin that "off hand, I wouldn't know of any way it could be done." Army counsel was unavailable for comment.

McCarthy was also asked about reports that he might try to end the inquiry by claiming that the Army had failed to prove its charges and then walking out.

"I will be with the committee until the investigation ends," he declared. "I will be available at any time, not only to appear on the stand, but available for questioning in closed session of the committee, if that is desired."

The Wisconsin senator is the subcommittee's regular chairman, but has stepped off the group for purposes of the inquiry. However both his side and the Army's have the right to question witnesses.

Although McCarthy has called the hearings "a waste of time" and other senators have complained at the lack of progress, Mundt denied he had received any suggestion from White House or other high Republican officials for a compromise to end them. President Eisenhower at his Thursday morning news conference expressed hope the affair is concluded quickly.

Some Republicans have made no secret of their belief that the GOP is being damaged politically by the spectacle of Republican appointees clashing with Republican elected officials and their aides.

Sen. Dirksen (R-Ill.) said he'd received no request from the White House. Vice President Nixon or others in the administration to stop the hearings. He said that obviously he'd like to see the hearings expedited but saw no way to do it unless principals could agree to cut down on the number of witnesses.

Bill Ridinger Appointed To High Recreation Post By Governor Of North Carolina

William "Bill" Ridinger, formerly of Gettysburg and now recreation director at Concord, N. C., was recently appointed by Gov. William Umstead of North Carolina to serve as vice-chairman of the Mid-Century Festival of Sports in North Carolina this year. The position will include being in charge of public relations and publicity for the entire state.

Ridinger, whose wife is the former Eleanor Hershey of Gettysburg, graduated from Gettysburg College and has been recreation director at Concord since 1951. He served in a similar capacity at Easton and was also employed in the state recreation program at Harrisburg.

The following editorial about Ridinger appeared in Herman Hickman's column, "The Big Pitch," in the Concord Tribune on April 13:

One of the finest tributes a person can receive who toils through honest strife for his fare is "he works hard or he's a real worker."

It may be a simple summation but I've known fellows that were mean as sin, beat their wife, booted the kids around, got drunk and broke all kinds of moral rules but bull sessions about these guys by other guys usually wind up praising the offender for his worth as a worker in his chosen field.

If he's a hard worker and an accomplisher of deeds worthy in his work, society has a tendency to overlook any other discrepancies. Even the stern judges in courtrooms are affected by hard-working men.

So far as I know Bill Ridinger, Concord Recreation director, has no moral failings but as a "worker" he is lauded widely and frequently.

If Bill has a fault it's probably that he is too ambitious. Not for himself, but for recreation. His energy allows him to attempt to give the city a $50,000 dollar program on $27,000 set up for the purpose.

Since his arrival here in 1951 Ridinger has contributed a seemingly continuous flow of recreational ideas that now has Concord rated as having one of the finest small town recreation programs in the East.

A few of his projects are Pop Warner football, Biddy and Iddy Biddy basketball, the Show Wagon which was the first in the East and one of the first six in the nation, Gym Shows and Sports Festivals.

Last year Concord was the first city in the East to stage a Mid-Century Festival of Sports sponsored by national sporting goods dealers for the purpose of stimulating more and more people to engage in wholesome recreation programs.

Other cities all over the South and nation also put on similar programs. Recently Concord was selected as the town staging the finest sports festival in the East. San Diego was judged the best in the West.

Literature confirming the Concord and San Diego selections was released recently. Yesterday Ridinger received a telegram from Gov. William B. Umstead appointing him vice-chairman of a Mid-Century Sports Festival Committee for North Carolina. Other towns in the state are now planning programs and Ridinger is in charge of publicity and public relations on a state wide level.

This weekend he has been invited to New York for a meeting with the American Association of Health, Physical Education and Recreation to present Concord's sports festival program to its sponsors.

Ridinger has long been recognized by state recreation officials as one of the busiest workers in the field. Hal Meyer, pioneer of recreation in North Carolina, praised his program as "a shining example of what can be accomplished in the field of recreation."

Ralph Andrews, director of N. C. Recreation Commission, said, "Bill is one of the most sought after men in the state work on committees. Recreation men know him as a worker who gets things done the way they should be. At our convention last year Ridinger was sought on every committee appointed a task."

Ridinger has critics that contend his chief aim is to gain recognition for himself. Any man that works as hard as Ridinger should be recognized. What else when a man's drive and energy gains nationwide recognition for contribution to a community project.

EARTH TREMORS FLATTEN TOWNS IN GREECE AND LEAVE 150 DEAD

By L. S. CHAKALES

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Earth tremors still rocked Central Greece last night, hours after violent shocks flattened entire towns and crushed scores of people to death.

The early death toll was estimated officially at 150. Interior Minister Ioannis Nicolaitis said at least 25,000 persons were made homeless.

The minister compared the disaster to that of the recent widespread quake destruction in the Greek Ionian Islands last August which killed up to 1,000 persons and destroyed the homes of 120,000.

Sleep In Fields

Yesterday's stricken area stretched from the East Coast into the Pindus Mountains, where shattered villages could be reached only over donkey trails. Destruction appeared to center around Granitsa, 135 miles northwest of Athens, with the towns of Sofades, Karditsa, and Domokos hardest hit.

Thousands of persons slept in open fields—some because they had no home to return to and others because they were afraid to go back to the towns they had fled.

Communications Out

The government sped supplies and medicine to the earthquake victims and dispatched troops to repair communication lines. A religious holiday which had closed down communication and government offices hindered the relief measures.

Many telephone and telegraph lines were down, delaying details on the extent of the disaster.

Here was the situation according to available reports:

Sofades, a town of 4,000, was almost destroyed. One person was killed and several injured.

Farsala, about the same size, had 80 per cent of its houses down, leaving 5,500 persons shelterless. Reports on the dead and injured were not in. The town is a historic site, said to be the home of Achilles. It also was the battle ground of Pharsalus, where Julius Caesar defeated Pompey the Great in 48 B. C.

Karditsa, population about 28,000, had 75 per cent of its houses toppled.

Two Earthquakes Recorded In N. Y.

NEW YORK (AP)—Two earthquakes, estimated here to have occurred 2,300 miles west of New York, were recorded Thursday. Seismographs at Columbia and Fordham Universities recorded the first shock at 5:56:11 a.m., and the second at 6:41:19 a.m.

In Washington, the Coast and Geodetic Survey said it had recorded two "strong quakes" and they apparently occurred "along the West Coast somewhere."

The Rev. Joseph J. Lynch, Fordham seismologist, described the first shock as "sharp" and the second as "more severe."

MOLOTOV AND DULLES MEET

GENEVA (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State Dulles scheduled another private meeting today with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov to discuss President Eisenhower's world atomic energy proposals.

This will be the second meeting of the two major East-West diplomats will have held since the Geneva Conference opened last Monday. Molotov indicated earlier this week in his request for today's meeting that he was ready to deliver a reply to the super-secret "concrete" proposals made by the United States March 19.

These talks between the Americans and Russians have been going on behind the tightest cloak of secrecy since Eisenhower proposed an international pool of atomic energy raw materials and know-how for peaceful uses in his address to the U. N. General Assembly last Dec. 8.

There is nothing that would prevent Dulles and Molotov from going over other problems, including the currently bogged-down discussions on Korea and the projected talks on Indochina here at Geneva.

ASSERTS REAL ESTATE TAXES ARE INCREASING

HARRISBURG (P)—The postwar building boom and new assessment procedures are increasing local real estate taxes to constantly revised new highs in Philadelphia.

The statement was made Friday by Joseph B. Borah, chief of the Division of Budgets and Reports for the Internal Affairs Department, in a report on local taxes for 1952—the latest available year.

"The assessed valuation of property used for tax purposes by all local units in the commonwealth has shown a steady increase during the past few years, he noted.

Real estate in Pennsylvania is valued at nearly seven billion dollars and personal property for tax purposes, at more than three billions.

In 1952, local governments reported a tax levy for local purposes at more than 47½ millions, an increase of 14 per cent over the 41½ millions reported in 1950.

Average is $24.53

The department report showed that city residents paid 111 million dollars in taxes in 1952, averaging about $24.53 for each man, woman and child.

The highest rate per capita was shown in Pittsburgh, at $26.12. Next were Clairton, $30.81; Philadelphia, $26.42; Duquesne, $25.63; and Bethlehem, $23.59. The lowest taxes per capita were paid by Sunbury residents, at $7.49. The statewide average was $24.53.

School tax collections, broken down by counties, averaged $22.25 for each resident of Pennsylvania. Montgomery County citizens paid the biggest average bill—$35.68 per person. Next highest were Bucks, $31.89; Delaware, $31.44; Pike, $30.42, and McKean, $28.68. The lowest was Forest County, at $3.51.

and the statewide average was $22.25.

Green County Highest

The rates for county purposes were highest in Green County where each person paid an average of $7.78 in 1952. Next highest were Pike, $7.12; Cambria, $7.08; Carbon, $7, and Bucks, $6.99. The lowest rate was in Philadelphia, at $1.31, and the statewide average was $5.81.

Allegheny led all other counties in the taxes per capita for borough purposes in the county. Its rate averaged $20.69 in 1952 followed by Warren, $16.59; Beaver, $15.48, Delaware, $14.47, and Sullivan, $13.85. The statewide average for borough purposes was $12.01.

Township residents paid the least taxes among the political subdivisions. The statewide average was $7.15 for each township resident. Montgomery County led the state with a per capita rate of $15.46 for township purposes followed by Delaware, $14.43; Allegheny, $13.05; Pike, $10.87 and McKean, $9.70. The lowest rate was in Montour County township, at $1.40.

Judge Fines Striker For Heaving Skunk

APPOMATTOX, Va. (P)—"Could the skunk have gone through the window of the plant unassisted?" asked Defense Attorney William B. Hopkins.

"Not unless he had a ladder," replied Vernon Bryan, manager of a strike-bound garment factory.

This exchange took place before the judge fined a striker $500 for tossing a skunk through the window.

SLOW DOWN

RICHMOND, Va. (P)—Your driving permit will be taken up in Virginia under a new law if you are convicted of speeding in excess of 75 miles per hour. Two convictions of speeding in twelve months already was enough to take you from behind the wheel.

A tiny girl turns to look at U.S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles as he takes a stroll along a sunny thoroughfare in Geneva, Switzerland (Apr. 25), where Dulles and diplomats of other countries gathered for Geneva Conference on Far East starting Monday. The Soviets in a new note to the Western Powers insisted Red China be one of a big five when discussion of Korea and Indochina starts. An informed source said Dulles would "walk out of the conference" if Russians continue to maintain that Geneva is a five-power affair with the Red China an equal nation with the U.S., France, Britain and U.S.S.R.

NEW FIRE RATES NOW IN EFFECT

HARRISBURG (P)—Revised fire insurance rates went into effect today to give Pennsylvania policyholders a savings of $6,600,000 a year.

The state Insurance Department said the revisions bring about an overall reduction of 8.7 per cent.

"To adjust rate inequalities which have existed in the different classes of fire insurances, reductions ranging from 27.7 per cent to 3.6 per cent, and increases from 0.6 per cent to 20.5 per cent classes," said Artemas C. Leslie, state insurance commissioner.

The change in the term rule—a rule providing for gradual reduction in premiums for policies taken out for more than a year's period—extends the recent discount to classes not heretofore eligible for term discounts.

Fire insurance risks in Pennsylvania are divided into 115 occupancy classes. Rates are reduced in 74 classes, increased in 29 and unchanged in 12.

The reductions, based on the last five years of the premium volume, will amount to about $38,900,000. The increases based on the premium volume for the same period will amount to about $5,800,000, or a net saving to policy holders of $33,100,000 over a five-year period.

Find Body Lashed In 16-foot Kayak

POINT PLEASANT, N. J. (P)—A 16-foot kayak, with the body of an unidentified man inside, floated ashore upside down at the mouth of the Metedeconk River in Barnegat Bay Thursday.

The man, lashed inside the kayak, had last been seen Wednesday at a bayhead boatyard where he stopped during rough weather on Wednesday.

Ocean County Coroner Raymond Hodge said the man apparently was dead since Wednesday.

Teller Follows Script In Daylight Robbery

BOSTON, N. C. (P)—At 11:15 a.m. Sheriff Vance Wilkins jokingly asked bank teller, Mrs. Aileen Robertson, "What would you do if a man poked a gun in your face?"

At 11:25 a.m. a bandit poked a gun in her face and Mrs. Robertson gave up the money.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

2 DISCHARGED FROM FHA POSTS

WASHINGTON (P)—A shakeup of the scandal-jarred Federal Housing Administration has reached outside of Washington with suspension of two Philadelphia officials on grounds they allegedly failed to answer under oath questions about "acceptance of gratuities."

Suspension of John P. McGrath, a chief appraiser, and Wilmer Russell, an inspector, was announced yesterday by William F. McKenna, deputy administrator of the housing and home finance agency.

McGrath and Russell were given five days "to show cause, personally and in writing" why they should not be fired.

Housing Chief Albert M. Cole, who is heading the Eisenhower Administration's investigation of reported multi-million dollar housing irregularities, said McGrath and Russell were ordered to state in a questionnaire whether they had received "money and other things of value from certain persons with whom they were conducting business in behalf of the FHA." Cole said they failed to do so.

Charge Irregularities

Cole said acting FHA Commissioner Norman P. Mason directed McGrath and Russell to answer questions under oath April 20 after there were allegations of "irregular practices."

Several Washington officials have been removed from their jobs in the shake-up so far.

Two congressional committees also are inquiring into charges that apartment house builders pocketed up to a half billion dollars in excessive profits by obtaining government-insured construction loans bigger than necessary to meet costs. Also under investigation are allegations that householders in many parts of the country were "fleeced" by home repair salesmen who persuaded them to get federally guaranteed home improvement loans, then ran out without performing the agreed-upon work.

Elaborate Modern Gadgets Make Preparations Simple For Taking Spring Trip; Some New Wrinkles

Like many a convertible plenty of drivers these days could profit by a new top.

Trip Coming Along

Getting the car into shape for a Springtime trip is subject to some newer methods due to the fact that it has become quite an elaborate assemblage of equipment. I remember the time when prospects of a trip immediately suggested casting about for new gadgets to add to insure greater comfort and safety. Today the car already is so elaborately equipped we are lucky if we find time to do a complete check on what already stands ready to serve us.

I am thinking of the power boosters, the filters, the elaborate lighting system, the electrical accessories and the directional signals. Even the electric windows need checking, not to mention the power top and the power controlled driver's seat. Our tourists traveled 3,000 miles before discovering that the cause of the car's limited top speed was due to the fuel filter's element which had become almost entirely coated with gums from inferior gasoline.

A typical example of the newer type of care needed these days is with self-sealing inner tubes. Unless any embedded nails are withdrawn from the shoe the inner tube may be torn during the trip, resulting in a sudden flat or a blowout. Many forget, too, that even though the brakes may seem to be at their best because of the booster their shoes may need taking up.

Getting It Straight

Sulphation on the battery isn't that whitish business which builds up on the posts and connectors. The latter is merely a form of corrosion which can be checked with a little petroleum jelly. Sulphation is a deposit on the battery's plates, and usually comes from excessive discharge, especially when the battery is allowed to sit unused.

Odd Place For Knock

That oil line to the instrument panel pressure gauge may be the cause of an annoying tapping noise. It has fooled many an experienced motorist. A good way to test for this condition is to back off on the oil pressure relief cap. If this reduces the noise, you're on the right track and can make a correction by using a longer flexible oil gauge hose. Before doing this, of course, make sure that the old line is clear. Clogging may increase the tendency toward one of these hydraulic knocks.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"It doesn't seem to occur to some owners that troubles which are allowed to go along unchecked will often develop several penalties. Take the case of a bad air leak in the intake manifold system such as a bad gasket or a cracked manifold.

"The owner knows from his own experience that the air being sucked into the cylinders because of this trouble is the main cause of the difficulty he is having getting the engine started in the morning. But he isn't likely to be aware of the fact that if he drives the car hard on the open road the lean mixture from the leak will cause a hotter burning flame within the cylinders and will burn the valves."

Easy To Overlook

There is so much talk these days about automatic transmissions the tendency is to forget that millions of cars still are equipped with the conventional clutch. It isn't any wonder that more and more people are forgetting to see that the pedal has the required inch of free travel before the clutch starts to disengage. Since the free travel disappears gradually you really have to tie a string around your finger to remember to have it increased. Unless the normal free play is maintained the clutch will wear excessively.

The Motor Primer

That little flywheel at the front end of the crankshaft is probably as little understood as anything on the car. We know it as the vibration damper but that's about all. Few realize that its purpose is to reduce torsional (twisting) vibration in the shaft. The force of each piston during its power stroke actually twists the shaft a little. Acting as a spring the shaft develops a torsional vibration which is controlled by the vibration damper. There are different designs of dampers, but in general the effect is for the damper to serve to help maintain a constant speed. Sometimes the damping effect is built into the flywheel itself.

Some engineers use the word "dampener." I go along with those who use the shorter word. It's a busy world.

Needs Shorter Stroke

Some carburetors especially on the older cars, have an acceleration pump arm which can be set for a shorter or a longer stroke. As warmer weather comes along the shorter stroke is needed, otherwise the engine will receive too much fuel when the driver steps on the accelerator pedal for passing another car.

A surprising amount of steering is done simultaneously with braking, so that often what appears to be a steering difficulty actually is trouble with the brakes. I have gone into this in the chapter on steering in my CAR CARE book, pointing out that warped front brake drums are likely to cause a pull one way or the other. In all of this tires also play a role because when a major stop is in process any variation in front tire tread traction will be reflected in greater difficulty steering. Pressures are also part of the picture. That's why anyone checking steering, and desiring to make a real job of it, checks into the matter of brakes and tires as well.

Trouble To Match

Pointing up the fact that cars develop troubles to match the habits of their operators is an interesting story told me by one of the good friends of this column. Noting binding in the accelerator this reader also was smart enough to discover that the trouble occurred only when he was driving the family car. When his father took the wheel everything was normal. Checking on Dad's habits our friend found that there was a rather logical difference in their methods of handling the engine. It took quite a bit of checking to uncover what I am reporting here, but when son was at the wheel he ran the engine much faster for a take-off. This made the engine twist way over in its flexible mounts which, in turn, caused the throttle linkage to touch the oil pressure gauge line. This produced a momentary binding that proved to be a real puzzler.

What's Your Trouble

Q. My car seems to have a habit of shifting itself into neutral when going down hill. Do not have trouble with it at other times. J. J.

A. You probably drive a little too fast when the roads are bumpy. The rear tires may be a little overinflated. There probably is some looseness in the driveline, but if you cut down the downhill speed you can usually correct for this.

Q. What would cause one of the front brakes to grab? H. B. N.

A. A warped drum would do it. So would incorrect adjustment of its shoes. If you find neither of these conditions have the lining of the shoes cut back a little.

Q. I have been experiencing trouble with the directional signals. Can't seem to get them to function properly. Wm. L., Jr.

A. This may require considerable checking, but one thing you can do immediately is to see if you have a lamp or two of the wrong voltage.

Q. One edge of a front tire on my car is badly worn. I have been told that this is a sign of underinflation, yet I am careful to check pressures every week. I also checked to make sure that the tire valve isn't leaking. T. H.

A. They have given you the wrong dope on this. Both sides of the tread would be worn if the tire were driven too far underinflated. What you have is evidence of misalignment. Better have the front end checked over before you run into further tire damage.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the safe care and operation of your car. Just address him at 254 Fern St., West Hartford 7, Conn., and enclose stamped self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. There is no charge.

DOES THE IDEA STARTLE YOU? Well, we're not talking about flying saucers. But, do you realize you travel with flying discs every day. We mean the fast-whirling parts that propel your car.

EVERY 5,000 MILES

... wheels, axles, bearings spin 3,750,000 times—other parts fly at the same fast rate. That is why, before taking any trip, it's best to have experienced men put your car in good order.

SAYS ATTITUDE OF MOTORISTS MUST CHANGE

HARRISBURG (U) — Atty. Gen. Frank P. Truscott said Friday that highway safety measures can be made more effective by a "change in attitude by most people" regarding motor vehicle law violations.

The attorney general spoke before some 600 delegates to the Pennsylvania Conference on Highway Safety who also heard greetings from Gov. J. S. Fine.

The session, called by Gov. Fine, was a follow-up on the White House conference on highway safety at Washington, D. C., last February. Friday's meeting was held in the State House of Representatives' Chamber.

Although pointed at finding ways to reduce highway accidents in the Keystone State, the conference convened at a time when Pennsylvania highway fatalities have decreased.

Up to April 23, a total of 384 persons met death on Pennsylvania streets and roads this year. Another 18 were killed on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, for which separate statistics are kept. Both totals compare favorably with last year's at this time, when 401 had been killed on the public roads and 31 on the turnpike.

Fatalities Decrease

Around the nation, too, improvement has been noted. Fatalities for the first three months of the year ran four per cent behind last year. If the present trend continues the year's total will be far below the 38,000 killed in 1953.

Truscott said that any remedies to further improve the safety record "must be aimed at making Pennsylvanians realize the tragic consequences—for themselves as well as others—of recklessness and carelessness behind the wheel."

"That realization ought to come before—not after—they are mixed up in a deplorable accident," he said.

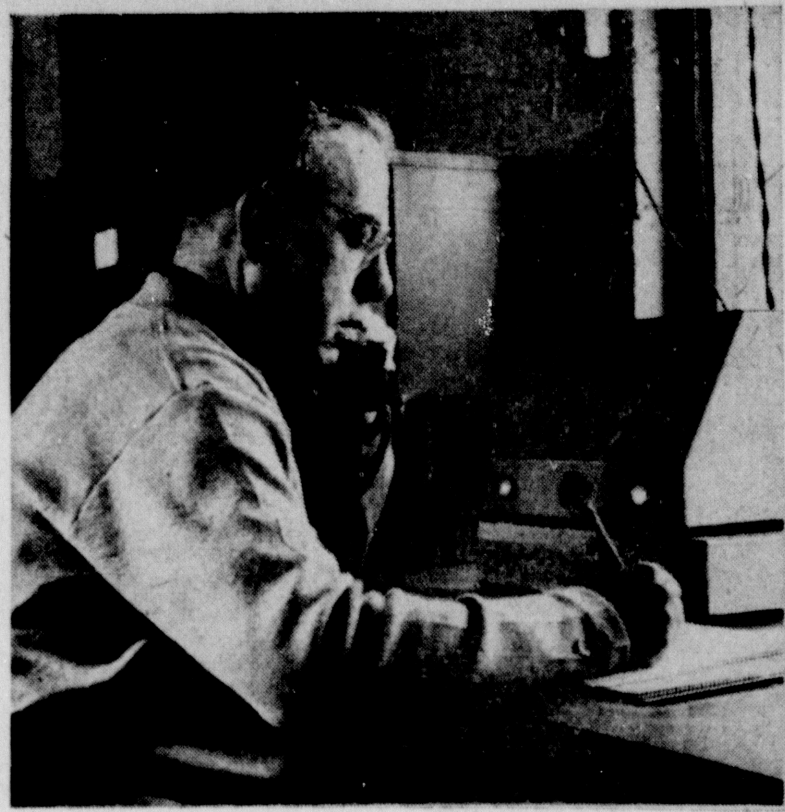

The attorney general declared that there is no need to accept the loss of lives through traffic accidents as inevitable.

"Passive Acceptance"

"The passive acceptance of these killings must be overcome if we hope to improve the situation," Truscott said.

The irony of the whole thing, he said, is that motor vehicle law

Gettysburg Gas Company's Trucks Are Radio Equipped

Relaying customer's service request to radio equipped service truck is Radio Operator Donald L. Hammers. The broadcasting unit and 60-foot transmitter tower are located in the gas company's shop on North Stratton Street. Calls cover a radius of about 15 miles, are beamed to gas company fleet of 10 radio equipped trucks and cars.

A new radio station which will benefit many families throughout the Gettysburg area — although relatively few people ever tune in on its broadcasts — is now in operation here.

Even if the general public could dial the gas company's new 75-watt radio unit, its program could hardly compete with Red Skelton, the Telephone Hour, or day time soap operas.

Calls like, "Car 10, adjust a gas appliance at 143 Kimball Street," and, "Gettysburg Radio, I have a pressure report on Regulator No. 27," don't make for absorbing radio listening.

But all are a vital part of the job of handling customer service requests and keeping gas flowing into homes and business places in this area.

60-Foot Radio Tower

The gas company broadcasts originate from Manufacturers Light and Heat Company's service shop on North Stratton Street. A 60-foot radio transmitter tower has been installed on the roof.

According to Julian N. Estep, manager of the gas company, the radio calls cover a radius of about 15 miles. They are transmitted to radio-equipped service trucks and cars operating out of the Gettysburg office.

Mr. Estep estimated that the bulk of the radio messages — roughly 80 per cent — are taken up by relaying customer service requests to drivers and servicemen in their trucks.

Other calls involve the reporting of gas pressure data from mobile units back to the gas company office to coordinate the flow of gas and to make sure each section is receiving adequate pressure at all times.

Licensed By Fee

The new radio station has been licensed by the Federal Communications Commission. It uses the call sign of KC 3430. The radio base station, transmitter tower, and 19 mobile units were installed by C. R. Sine, Manufacturers' radio technician in this area.

The local station is the fifth such community radio system to be completed by the gas company in its Tri-State territory. By the end of this year, Manufacturers expects to have 9 radio units in operation within the communities it serves.

The distribution radio units operate independently of a larger transmission radio system. That system covers the network of cross-country pipelines feeding was into Gettysburg and Manufacturers' in other service communities.

Gettysburg's new radio system was installed at a total cost of $7,600. The investment is part of the gas company's 1954 construction program, calling for a total expenditure of $27,000,000 to improve gas service through the Tri-State area.

violators are not regarded as criminals or lawbreakers.

The conference split into seven separate sections, with each group to make recommendations to the entire conference membership for coordinated safety efforts at the local level throughout the state.

The seven separate committees included agriculture, business, officials, labor, media, organizations and women's committee.

INTERVENTION IS UNPOPULAR WITH CONGRESS

WASHINGTON (U)—Three Democratic senators said today Congress is in no mood to approve involvement of U. S. fighting units in the Indochina war.

A Republican, Sen. Flanders (Vt.), agreed that the thought of direct American intervention is unpopular in Congress. But he said the United States and the United Nations may be forced to take direct action, if the Communists threaten to overrun Indochina.

Sen. Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo.) took note of President Eisenhower's news conference statement Thursday that this country will not get into a war except through the constitutional process, involving a declaration of war by Congress.

No Sentiment For Intervention

"If the President waits for Congress to give him the go-ahead on sending U. S. troops to Indochina," Johnson said, "he will wait for a long, long time. There is no sentiment in the Senate for intervention in Indochina."

Sen. Monroney (D-Okla.) said in a separate interview that "no case has been made as yet for the... use of American troops" in Indochina and he added: "There is little likelihood that Congress would give such authority now."

Sen. Holland (D-Fla.) said he would have to know much more "about the immediacy of the situation (in Indochina) before I'd consent to sending our combat troops there."

Hospital

director to study the immediate and future needs of the hospital and also to determine in his own mind how much money can be raised in Adams County to finance this work.

"I don't believe we should go any farther than the needs as they become immediate. On the other hand, I don't believe that the people of Adams County should have to wait five years for hospital service and facilities that are needed right now. I realize this board is going to have some difficult decisions to make. Though the solution is difficult, the problem is important and we must continue to work to find the answers."

Compares Statistics

By way of demonstrating the growth of the hospital, Walter B. Dillon, administrator, compared hospital statistics of April 1954 with those of 1929 as published a few days ago in the "Out of the Past" column of the Gettysburg Times.

The comparative figures for April 1929 and April 1954 are respectively: Patients admitted 66 as against 285; patients discharged 56 and 251;

births 5 in 1929 and 64 this month; deaths 5 in each April; number in hospital on last day—30 in 1929 and 76 in 1954; average number of patients per day 26 as compared with 65. In April 1929 there were 93 x-rays as against 367 this month; in 1929 there were no deep-therapy x-ray treatments while in April this year there were 64. Laboratory examinations in 1929 totaled 245 while this month totaled 1,429. There were 42 operations in April 1929 as compared with 136 this month. Only one electro-cardiogram was taken in 1929 while this month 30 were taken. Intravenous-administrations aggregated 4 in 1929 and 63 in April 1954.

Commenting on these figures, President Hauser said:

"This comparison reflects a steady growth and the amazing need for first class hospital facilities in Adams County. The rate of growth is even faster today and we dare not delay in meeting the needs."

March, Busy Month

March was a busy month the hospital report indicated. There were 341 admittance and 363 discharges. The hospital was occupied by an average of 73 patients per day during the month. Births totaled 92. Cash receipts were $28,164.59 while

COLLECTORS FILE BONDS

Two tax collectors' bonds in the amount of $30,200 were filed this morning in the office of Kenneth W. Johns, clerk of courts. H. B. Miller, New Oxford collector, was bonded for $16,800, and Wilmer E. Gross, Berwick Twp., for $13,400.

GOES TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. James L. Brown, Orttanna, was admitted to the Johns Hopkins Hospital, Baltimore, Friday, for a kidney ailment.

Expenditures were $32,718.19. Earned income was $26,868.17 while actual expenses were $29,004.05.

Catherine A. Vance, chief of the division of hospitals of the Pennsylvania Department of Welfare, in a letter to Administrator Dillon, said a report of a recent inspection of the hospital revealed satisfactory general conditions and that "house-keeping was good throughout the hospital." She added the state department has no recommendations to offer.

A contribution of $500 from the hospital auxiliary, toward the cost of the new dishwashing machine, was acknowledged and the directors passed a resolution congratulating the auxiliary and Mrs. Leroy Winebrenner upon winning the Benjamin Rush awards.

A proposal that local merchants be solicited by a radio concern to provide free radio for patients was rejected.

SEMINARY CHOIR

Come and Mourn With Me Awhile," David Williams; "A Song of Joy," Gretchen Hoff.

Following the meditation by Earl Crepe, the choir will sing a series of anthems expressing the prayer of each heart in praise of the Lord. The selections include: "Draw Us to Thee, Lord Jesus," "Vulpius-Bach," "Cherubim Song," Bortniansky; "Lord, On Our Offenses in Justice Look Not," Mendelssohn; "Lord, Let at Last Thine Angels Come," Hassler.

An organ accompaniment will highlight the final part of the program "bringing our modern day need into the light of divine help and gracious love." Expressing this religious experience, the choir will sing: "Come, Thou Redeemer of the Earth," Praetorius-Darst; "Like as the Hart Desireth the Water-brooks," Macfarlane; "And Have Not Charity," Mallot; "Te Deum," Joseph Clokey.

For 13 years the choir has played an important role in the life and activity of the seminary. Organized anew at the beginning of each academic year, it makes a spring tour each season. The choirsters also sing on special occasions on campus and often at the regular daily services of worship. Robert S. Clipper is choir director.

honor, wore a floor-length gown of blue net over taffeta and a picture hat. Miss Miriam Heiser, Littlestown, the attendant, wore yellow net over taffeta and a picture hat. Both carried colonial bouquets of carnations and roses.

John Clabaugh Jr., brother of the bridegroom, was the best man. The ushers were James Sneeringer, the bride's brother, and Joseph Clabaugh, brother of the bridegroom.

Breakfast was served at the bride's home after the ceremony. A reception will be held in the Bonneville Fire Company Hall this evening, after which the couple will leave for Caribon, Me., where they will reside until the bridegroom completes his enlistment in the Air Force. He is stationed at the Limestone Air Force Base.

For a going-away ensemble the bride will wear a two-piece dress of pink linen, a light blue hat and navy accessories. Her corsage will be a white orchid.

The bride, who attended the Delone High School in McSherrystown, was employed at the Cannon Shoe Company, Littlestown, before her marriage. Her husband was graduated from Delone in 1951.
